MASSACHUSETTS ATTORNEY GENERAL MAURA HEALEY TO KEYNOTE FIFTH NEWIEE WOMEN SHAPING THE AGENDA EVENT
Panel Discussion to Follow on Regional Collaboration vs. State Sovereignty on Energy and the Environment

BOSTON, MA—New England Women in Energy and the Environment (NEWIEE) will host its fifth annual “Women Shaping the Agenda” event on Wednesday, July 24, from 5:00 PM to 8:30 PM, at the University of Massachusetts Boston, John W. McCormack Graduate School of Policy and Global Studies. This year’s event will feature Massachusetts Attorney General Maura Healey as the keynote speaker, followed by an insightful panel discussion among state regulators and policymakers.

“This urgent challenge of addressing the climate crisis is matched only by the opportunity we have to build a clean energy future,” said Massachusetts Attorney General Maura Healey. “I am excited to join NEWIEE to talk about our ambitious agenda and the leadership role that women will play in meeting this critical moment.”

The panel topic—Regional Collaboration vs. State Sovereignty on Energy and the Environment: Where the New England States Converge and Diverge—will feature:

- Kate Bailey, Commissioner, New Hampshire Public Utilities Commission
- Carol Grant, Commissioner, Rhode Island Office of Energy Resources
- Hannah Pingree, Director, Maine Office of Policy Innovation and the Future
- Moderated by Kate McKeever, Director of Regulatory and Institutional Affairs at Enel Green Power

The panelists will discuss how the states are working together to meet their shared clean energy and environmental policy goals, and where the states are going their separate ways to achieve state-specific policies and objectives. Policy matters of interest will include renewable/clean energy procurement efforts; climate mitigation strategies; carbon reduction measures from the power, transportation, and buildings sectors; and clean energy jobs objectives.

Tickets to the 5th Annual Women Shaping the Agenda event are on sale until July 23rd. For more information, and to purchase tickets, please visit www.NEWIEE.org. Sponsorship opportunities are also available.
